Rockefellers Rescued Today From Flash Fire

ALBANY, N. Y. — Gov. and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller were rescued by firemen today when a flash fire broke out in the 100-year-old state executive mansion, destroying painting worth nearly $350,000.

The Rockefellers, two maids and a butler, were helped down ladders as flames shot out of ground floor windows. The governor put a business suit over his pajamas and Mrs. Rockefeller wore a dressing robe. No one was injured.

AMONG THE paintings destroyed or seriously damaged was a collection donated to the state by former Gov. Averell Harriman. The Harriman paintings included three by Gilbert Stuart, two by Thomas Scully, and a sunset by George Innes. Rockefeller placed the value of the paintings at $250,000.

The governor, a collector of modern art, said about $100,000 damage was done to his paintings. The governor said his paintings were insured. Some of the pictures were destroyed and others were badly damaged.

ROCKEFELLER, A member of the Board of Directors of the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, went back up the ladder once to retrieve several paintings. This recalled Rockefeller's dash into the Museum of Modern Art in 1958 to help save paintings threatened by a fire. This was prior to his winning the governorship.

AIRPORT ELECTION

Residents Express Opinions

The Desert Sun is carrying as a daily feature until the Airport Bond election March 14—expressions by local businessmen and residents on the need for the airport and the election.

MICHAEL W. HEATHMAN, building contractor—"The most important single aspect of future progress of the desert is continuance of the tourist trade. The loss of the Palm Springs Airport would be a serious detriment to the local construction business and a detriment to every job holding workman."

SAM HINKLE — service station owner — "This town has the most intelligent people of its size in California... therefore they won't let the bond election lose. It would be ridiculous to let it fail. I urge a YES vote."

Also reported by the Highway Patrol was "extremely heavy wind and sand conditions on Highway 99 near Thousand Palms where Division of Highways crews cleared sand from the highway three times today between 6 a. m. and 10 a. m."

Road conditions en route to Blythe and El Centro are reported as bad.

Will Go All-Out To Secure Federal Funds for Project

U. S. Senators Thomas Kuchel and Clair Engle today pledged all-out assistance in securing Federal assistance in the purchase by the city of Palm Springs Airport if voters approve the bond issue March 14.

In exclusive telephonic interviews with The Desert Sun, both men emphasized the importance of an airport to a community, and its growing importance in the future.

THE VOTERS must approve the purchase before formal application can be made, but the city has already received assurances that it will have a high priority in the fund allocation.

Sen. Kuchel commented: "In this age of travel by air, by private or commercial means, progressive communities must face up to the need for adequate airport facilities and invest in the future. The people of Palm Springs have an important decision to make. I wish to say, however, that if they approve the Airport Bonds, I would be very glad to assist in every possible way in obtaining maximum Federal assistance for their project."

AND SEN. ENGLE said: "At the time of Palm Springs Airport Acquisition Bond election, I want to assure you that I will bend every effort to assist in every way possible, particularly in expediting Federal assistance."

"As a pilot myself, having landed many times at the Palm Springs Airport, I am very much aware of your present facilities and the load placed upon them. I am also aware of the importance of air travel in your resort economy — as well as in the present and future of the entire country."

RECEIVING AN accident call at 11:35 p. m., California Highway Patrol officers R. V. Norton and Donald C. Hunter were advised by an on the scene informant that "a house just hit a car."

Investigation revealed that Jacobs had just backed his car out of their residence carport when wind estimated at a velocity of 60-70 mile per hour ripped off the roof of their patio, hoisted it 94 feet in the air and over the roof of the house until it came to rest on top of the Jacobs automobile.

Last night Leo Mitchell Jacobs, 57, and his wife Bess, 54, were taken to Desert Hospital for treatment of injuries suffered when their car was literally hit by their own house on Sterling avenue near Palm Oasis Avenue.

The Jacobs family of Los Angeles will think twice before they try and play it safe when confronted by hazardous driving conditions.

Burned Bodies Found

(UPI) — Exhausted rescue crews today brought up the bodies of 22 men killed in a massive explosion in a coal mine on the banks of the Wabash River.

The miners were felled where they worked Thursday night when the blast shattered a quarter-mile section 180 feet below ground in the Viking Coal Company mine.

THROUGHOUT THE night there had been hope that some might have found an air pocket and survived. But it proved a vain hope. The last miner was found at 7:35 a. m.—dead.

Investigators said the 22 men working on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift never had a chance.

The blast loosened tons of coal and earth, twisted coal moles and loading machines into masses of metal and knocked out the mine's ventilating system, slowing rescue operations.

"WE FOUND THE men lying where they fell along the sides of the tracks where they must have been working at the time of the explosion," State Mine Inspector R. E. Hudson said.

"A couple of them apparently tried to crawl. They got only about 20 feet. The rest dropped dead on the spot."

Company Vice President Birch Brooks said, "We don't know what caused the explosion for certain — we have our suspicions." He did not elaborate.

BROOKS SAID A joint investigation would be opened Saturday by representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, state mine investigators, the United Mine Workers, insurance investigators and company officials.

Rescue crews carried the bodies out one by one through the long, chill night and carted them away in ambulances to a mortuary chapel. There they were laid out in two rows on green and white sheets.

DRAMATIC MOMENT of the recent meeting of the Palm Springs American Cancer Society unit was acceptance of the "sword of hope," official Society symbol, by Mary and Bill Gargan, honorary chairmen of the desert area Cancer Crusade, from William H. Elliott, M.D., left, local ACS unit chairman. Gargan, making his first public appearance since a November surgery for throat cancer in which he lost his voice, used a new technique to speak before the Palm Springs volunteer group to urge them to "work vigorously" in the annual cancer fund raising drive March 20 to April 22.

Cancer Victim Aids Palm Springs Drive

Highlight of the recent meeting of the Palm Springs American Cancer Society unit was the appearance of Mary and Bill Gargan, honorary desert area co-chairmen of the 1961 "Cancer Crusade" which begins locally March 20.

Gargan, veteran stage, screen and television actor, made his first public appearance before the Cancer Society group since undergoing surgery for throat cancer last fall. Stricken by the disease while playing the lead in last season's stage hit, "The Best Man," Gargan entered the hospital for emergency removal of his larynx in November, and has been learning to speak again for the past several weeks through a technique of breath controlled articulation.

URGING THE ACS volunteers to work energetically in the March funds drive, Gargan's remarks included a dramatic reference to his own experience. He stated that "were it not for the research made possible by the American Cancer Society, I would not be here today."

In addition to the Gargans, other volunteers named by Cancer Society unit chairman, W. H. Elliott, M.D., to lead various facets of the month-long crusade are: George Beebe, Jr.; Fred Hathaway; Mrs. Al Gardiner; Mrs. J. R. Black; Mrs. Ralph Wolff; Mrs. Ruth Manseau; Dr. Chas. McCammon; Dr. Ruth McCammon; Henry Cleary; and Mrs. Stanley Rosin.

Mrs. Harold Hicks and Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz, residential crusade leaders, reported that volunteers are needed for neighborhood solicitation; and Rev. Fred Barnhill and C. Ron Ellis, service club chairmen, outlined plans for the Cancer Crusade Caravan slated for kick-off day parade activities on March 20.

Supplies Loaned Through Society

Cancer patients who have no other means of obtaining them, can arrange for the loan of items of sickroom equipment and free supplies of dressings through the Riverside County Branch of the American Cancer Society, it was announced today.

Mrs. Roy C. Hunt, Service Chairman, said that the Society assists in locating needed items through its year-around information and referral services, which often uncover sources of help that the patient does not realize are available to him.

With the authorization of the attending physician, the Society lends hospital beds and other specialized equipment for the home care of cancer patients if no other way of providing for them can be found.

Cancer dressings — frequently very expensive among the requirements of cancer patients — are distributed free by the Society.

'Mass of Angels' Said For Slain Child

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Bless the Lord, all ye His angels. You that are mighty in strength executing His word..."

The opening words of the Mass of the Angels, offered on the death of a little child in the Roman Catholic faith, signaled that an innocent one had come home to the St. Rose of Lima Church.

THE BODY OF 4-year-old Edith Kiecorius, 45 pounds in a white lace dress under an engraved silver Crucifix in an unopened, white doeskin coffin, came back today to the neighborhood church in which she was baptized.

The pastor, the Rt. Rev. James H. Casey, had asked all the parishioners in this heart of the Flatbush section of Brooklyn to say special prayers for the safe recovery of the blonde, hazel-eyed girl. That was when she vanished, a week ago Wednesday. Now there were prayers of a different kind.

EDITH'S beaten and sexually assaulted body was found Sunday in a slum room in the Chelsea section of Manhattan, quite close to the spot where many years ago Clement Moore wrote for his children a poem beginning, "Twas the night before Christmas." A color snapshot of little Edith gazing radiantly at a department store Santa Claus has stood for two days atop the doeskin coffin in the funeral home while hundreds filed past.

DUNOON, Scotland (AP) — A small group of beatnik pacifists made a futile move to board a U. S. Navy warship today to protest the establishment of a nuclear submarine base in Scotland.

Sorrow on Death Of Morocco King

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Thursday extended his wishes of success to Morocco's new king Hassan II and expressed sorrow on the death of the young sovereign's father, King Mohammed V.

Eisenhower in his prepared statement said he counted both rulers his personal friends. King Mohammed V died Sunday.

"THE DEATH OF King Mohamed V has come as a great shock to me and I extend my deep sympathy to the people of Morocco and to his son, King Hassan II," said Eisenhower.

"The late King Mohammed came to Washington in 1957 on a state visit and later made a tour of our country. I went to Morocco in 1959 to pay a return call on his majesty, and on both occasions we were able to exchange useful views on common problems.

"WITH HIS PASSING our country has lost a real friend.

"To King Hassan II, whom I count as a personal friend, I extend my best wishes as he assumes the responsibilities of his father. He has a heavy task. I wish him well in it."

clear submarine base in Scotland.

The pacifists, some with beards and flowing hair, paddled their canoes up the River Clyde but were intercepted by British police and Royal Navy guards before they could reach the Proteus, mother ship for America's nuclear-powered Polaris submarines.

IN A CHASE around the stern of the 18,500-ton submarine tender, two of the pacifists fell out of their canoe, but were fished out of the water and taken to shore. Two others were hauled bodily into a police launch after refusing to get out of another canoe.

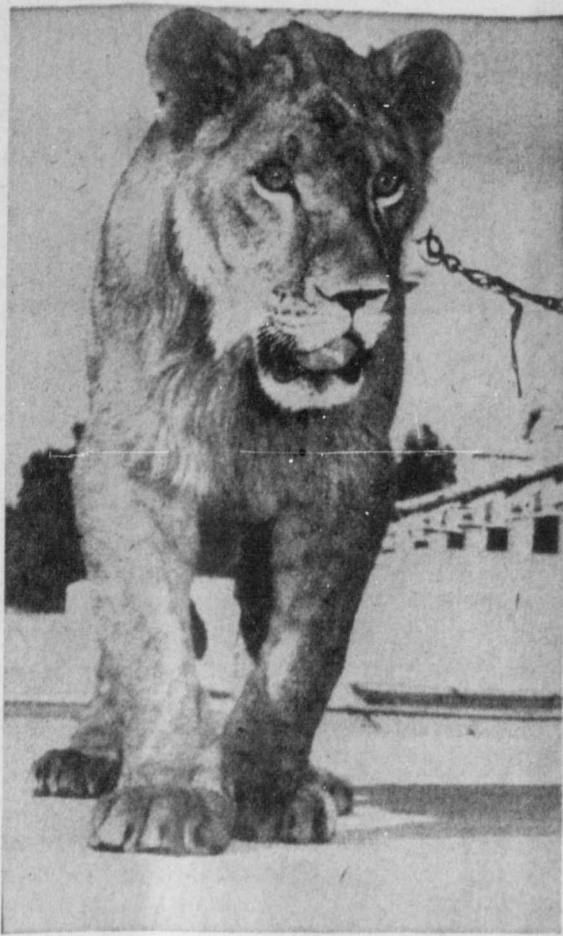

The water - borne demonstrations erupted shortly after the Proteus steamed into Holy Loch on schedule this morning.

THE DEMONSTRATORS, who had hung placards on the pier which said "remember Hiroshima," shouted "ban the bomb" as they headed for the Proteus.

Earlier, 16 young Scots men and women attacked the camp of the pacifists who described themselves as beatniks.

"If war breaks out, they will be the first to leave and let us face the consequences," said one of the attacker. "We're local boys who are sick of this lot attracting bad publicity."

The pacifists' rickety fleet of two dinghies and four canoes, which cost them $33.60, were cut loose from their moorings and shoved out into the river in the predawn attack by the local youths. However, they managed to recover the canoes.

Funeral Mass for Joseph M. Ternes, 52, 410 Avenida Ortega, will be conducted at 8 a.m., Saturday, at Our Lady of Solitude Catholic Church, with the Rev. William G. Goodrow officiating. Rosary will be recited at 8:30

Plasterers Local Sets Example

When President Kennedy suggested that the American people give some thought to what they could do for their country, the average person knew little and cared less about what he—or she—could do to help the government. As the president implied, people have been expecting too much of government and giving too little thought to their own responsibilities.

The President had no specific suggestions as to what a person could do to help. Indeed, his program calls for even more governmental assistance. So, it would seem, Mr. Average Citizen will continue to lean heavily on government to solve all the problems and help in a time of need.

It is very encouraging however when a labor organization responded in a very practical way to Mr. Kennedy's suggestion by declining to accept an increase in pay that was scheduled in their contract. We refer to the action of Plasterers Local No. 2, of Los Angeles. Under their contract with the Contracting Plasterers Association, this Los Angeles labor group was entitled to a 124-cent-an-hour pay increase on May 1 but voted at a membership meeting to continue with the present $4.25-an-hour rate.

Their reason should be given serious thought by every labor union in the nation—and management as well. Here is the first voluntary effort we have seen in many a year to hold the line—to help break the wage-price spiral that is responsible for most of the economic problems in this country today.

Said Burt Chapman, president of the local: "We turned down the extra money in order to support President Kennedy's plea to hold the line of inflation—and because it may stimulate construction work." He went on to make a proposal which, if carried out, would help as much as any government pump-priming to pull the nation out of the current recession. "If other building crafts go along with us," he said, "it will stimulate work."

The importance of this action is that it was voluntary; it was taken by a majority of the local union. They took a cut in pay in the belief it would help other members of their craft who may be on the unemployment rolls.

If unions generally will make such a sacrifice—and management will also hold the line on prices—Mr. Kennedy would not have to be so concerned about the national economy.

A Negotiated War?

PARIS — Vernon J. Veritas, the old truth-teller, had been in West Europe for a couple of weeks, talking with everybody from high military rank down to heavy-thinking civilian advisors. What did he make of it all?

"To begin with," said Veritas, "I perceive in Europe what is fairly evident in the USA — President Kennedy's parents raised a very smart son. The President began his administration by saying that our European allies were in disarray, and that the U.S. was doing more than its share. He took his own sweet time — close to three weeks — before passing what could be called a comforting word to the NATO partners."

That was good?

"THAT WAS SMART," replied Veritas. "For better than 20 years, European allies of the U.S. have been getting priority on everything — from presidential flatteries to money and troops. By starting off on a gruff note, and by looking the other way for a while, Mr. Kennedy had the Europeans holding their breaths and praying for his notice — served 'em right."

Mr. Veritas didn't seem very pleased with our European allies.

"IF EUROPE GETS atom-bombed, it will be Europe's own fault," said Veritas. "After more than 10 years, the ground forces in Europe are at no better than two-thirds strength. The weaker NATO is in conventional strength, such as men and rifles, the more inevitable the use of nuclear weapons will be. Germany and France still owe NATO something like 10 divisions. If these divisions are not in the line, and at full strength, when a Soviet attack comes, A-shells and H-bombs may be the only way to stop the Reds — who, in turn, will go to nuclear shooting."

Gen. Norstad's plans are, of necessity, defensive. The Supreme Commander hopes to stop a Soviet attack, giving the enemy a chance to pause for reflection. It almost seems that we are allowing the enemy to choose not only the time and place, but the kind of war he desires to fight.

"TO PUT IT MORE bluntly," said Veritas who always puts things that way, "we had a negotiated peace in Korea—now we are planning a negotiated war."

Not so good, eh?

"There is nothing on record to show that we can out-negotiate the Communists," said Veritas. "Out-fight them, yes. Out-produce them, yes. But we have never yet negotiated successfully for any of our objectives. Where have the Communists agreed to free elections? When have we returned prisoners except as trade-ins? When have we and the Communists made any progress toward control and inspection of nuclear arms?"

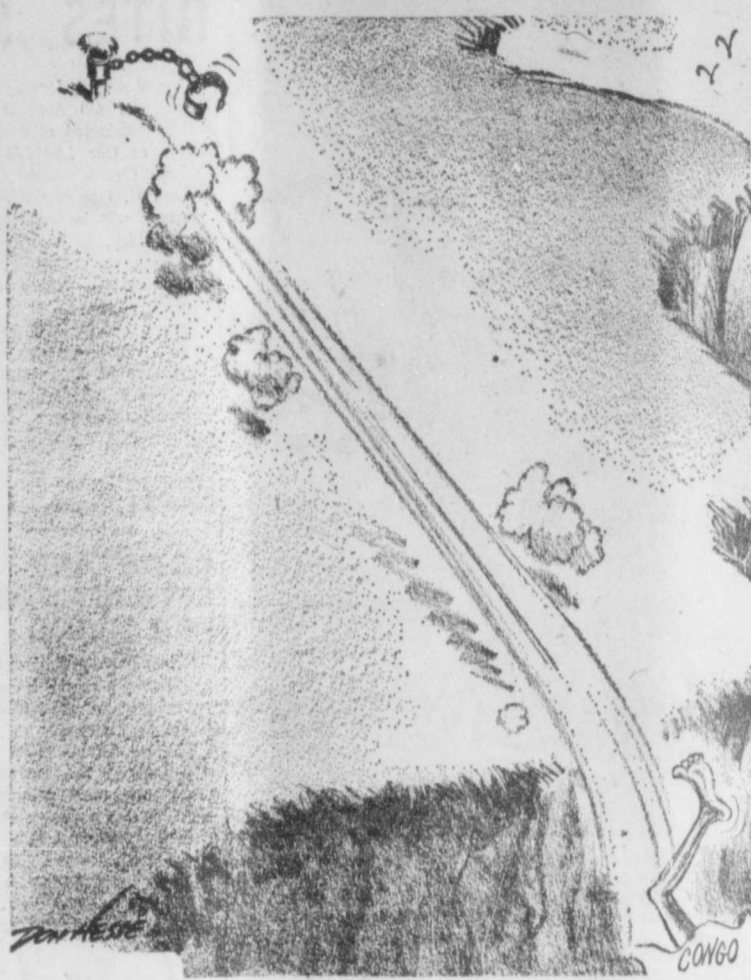

force by theirs. We have promised to fight with non-atomic weapons as long as we don't lose too badly. This permits the Russians, in effect, to prevent us from choosing what weapons to fight with. All this amounts to is a negotiated war — and not the kind we are apt to win."

STILL, THE DAY of unconditional surrender and fight-to-the-finish may be gone. Since we live in the day of occasional Summit meetings and frequent high-level conferences, we'd better learn how to win them. The fact that we haven't won yet doesn't mean that we never shall.

"No, but it means that President Kennedy must do better than Roosevelt did at Yalta. Truman did at Potsdam, Eisenhower did at Geneva and Camp David," said Veritas. "It means that Gen. Norstad, a brilliant statesman — commander and possibly the best appointment the President has made in Europe, needs to be backed up much more strongly in his demands for allied contributions. It is not for Norstad to say that the Germans should have a stricter draft law — but the President can say so. It is not Norstad's business to comment on the French policy in Algeria — but this is the key to France's participation in NATO, and the President can comment, as he has already done, and should do."

During the campaign, Mr. Kennedy said that the way to "stand up to Khrushchev" was to confront him with strength. "Beginning now," replied Veritas. —Holmes Alexander

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

The central girl has
A hazardous job
Where names and letters
Can really play hob.

Now you take the other morning. It was early and the long distance girl was probably still yawning when I came across something I thought Don Klotzbuecher, managing editor of The Desert Sun, should know. I was at the beach, he was here.

CENTRAL ANSWERED and I said I'd like to place a collect call to Mr. Don Klotzbuecher at Fairview 5 - 5005 in Palm Springs.

"How do you spell it?" she asked.

"K like kangaroo, L like lion, or leopard if you prefer, O like ostrich, T like tiger, Z like zebra, U like unicorn — what? It's one of those animals with a horn growing out of its nose. E like elephant, C like cat, H like horse, you know, two bucks to show, E like another elephant and R like rabbit."

QUITE A DROP, I said pleasantly, elephant to rabbit.

She ignored it. "Your name, please?"

"Graettinger," I said. I could hear her sigh.

"Spell it please."

"G like giraffe, R like Roebuck, A like aardvark, E like elephant (that's three) double T like Two Tigers, I like IbeX Yeah, he has a horn growing out of his nose, too. N like, well, ah, N like nothing, G like goat, E like elephant — my gosh, four of 'em — R like Rhinosaurus."

"RHINOSAURUS? That's another animal with a horn growing out of his nose. He's really ugly, too."

There was a sort of strangling noise on the other end of the line.

Then a brief period of silence, and:

"Just a moment, please."

I COULD HEAR the telephone ringing in The Desert Sun office and Don quickly answered. "Mr. Klotzbuecher?" central asked.

"Well, that's a reasonable facsimile," I heard Don say. "There's a Mr. Menagerie, oh, no, I mean a Mr. Barnum — that's wrong, too, a Mr. Grottinger at the zoo, I mean Long Beach, calling and he wishes you to pay for the message," said Central.

Well, Don okayed it and we talked.

BUT I'LL LAY $ to $ that when the girl's shift was over and she started for home, she stuck her head out of the door and scanned the hall cautiously.

To make sure there weren't four elephants, two tigers, an aardvark and three animals with horns coming out of their noses, waiting to way lay her.

And I'll wager she doesn't think too much of Mr. Alexander Graham Bell.

The Day Spring Sprang

"Spring is sooner recognized by plants than by men," says a Chinese proverb.

This was written in brush strokes some 4,000 years ago. I have a hunch it was written about March 3. Not March 21.

IT IS VERY GOOD joss to greet Spring early. Because if you are not nimble with this subject, every gun-jumping writer in the business is there before you.

I have seen some shady journalists in my time. But nothing shadier than a couple of years ago when Spring was discovered in the public prints outside P. J. Moriarty's Chophouse on Sixth Avenue, New York City.

THE WRITER HAD to rub the frost off the window to see out.

Nonetheless, he sat down in P. J.'s and typed out a piece full of daffodils.

That was the year everybody was advancing on Spring — and March scarcely a day old.

IN PARIS, THE columnists leaved out the chestnut trees in noble prose.

Phoenix newspapermen covered the desert with flowers.

Even Westbrook Pegler said Spring was much earlier than it had been before. I think he blamed it on Eleanor Roosevelt.

WELL, TOO - RA - LOO - RA-LOO-RA! There I sat. Waiting like a gent for March 21. With a heart full of robin song and a typewritten piece full of buttercups.

By the time I got into print, Spring was as second-hand as sack dresses.

No more, Claude.

I intend to announce Spring earlier each year.

"When birds sing, hey ding a ding, ding..."

SPRING MAY NOT be apparent to all. But to a Spring detective like me, the clues are unmistakable.

The first robin has not arrived. But the magazines are already getting out their April issues — magazines are faster on the draw than the column writers.

The only people faster are bathing suit manufacturers who come out with Spring styles in the preceding August.

IT IS SPRING, tra-la-la. (Everybody note who said it first this year.)

It is Spring on the green hillsides. Spring on the Bay. Spring in my thumping heart. And spring because we are putting in a new heating system.

IT IS SPRING because I say so. (New York, Paris and Phoenix papers do not copy.)

It is the season of birds and bees and brides.

The season when Maids of Cotton are crowned. And Miss Rheingold is displayed in the Springiest finery.

WHEN THE VOICE of the turtle dove is heard in the land.

When Carrot Queens are photographed in leggy, caroty attire.

When Boy Meets Girl.

When fishing tackle is overhauled, the sun shines, dogs whine and cats meow.

Now if it just doesn't turn cold on us today...

Spring is sprung.

WASHINGTON — A State Department Foreign Service officer, explaining why newly appointed ambassadors are strongly urged but not ordered to take language training:

"You don't order a presidential appointee to do anything."

WASHINGTON — Joyce Eikenberry, stating she can't understand why her 14-year-old sister Kaye ran away from home to try to see President Kennedy:

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if this is a coincidence or not, but lately my husband has been making up excuses to go out after supper.

I don't like to be left alone, and I can't go anywhere because we have a baby, so I call up my girl friend to ask her to come over and keep me company. Whenever I call her and my husband is gone, she isn't home either. When my husband is home, so is she. What do you make of it?

DEAR SUSPICIOUS — If you want to hang this couple on circumstantial evidence, just give them both a little more rope.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 19 years of age and working. She recently complained that when we serve wine or mixed drinks at home (usually only when we have guests) we either do not offer her any or else her father says, "You don't care for any, do you?" Do you think she could wait a year or two longer? D.S.

DEAR D. S.: Today's 19-year-old deserves the dignity of adult treatment. I, too, would prefer that she "wait." But in her own home she should be given the chance to make her own decision.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, married and have a daughter. When I was 16 I had never dated, which made me feel unwanted and unpopular. I was never close to my mother. I found a way to be "popular."

My mother had told me that sex before marriage was wrong, but when I asked her why, she said, "Because I said so." There were never any explanations. I think if I had known WHY sex should wait until after marriage, it would have changed my life. My husband doesn't respect me because I gave in to him before marriage. He said at the time it would prove I loved him, but now he calls me a tramp and says he will never trust me. I have never been unfaithful to him and never will be.

I am saving your columns for my daughter, Abby. Mothers can tell daughters things, but coming from you it means more. I want more than anything else in the world to see my daughter walk down the aisle in white.

TIGHT WITH A BUCK

WASHINGTON — Washington waiters say the New Frontier Cabinet members and other top officials of the Kennedy administration are close men with a buck — especially when it comes to tipping.

The waiter said he hoped "they would be as tight-fisted with our money."

CORRALS POSSE

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — IM — Sheriff George Witkowski today called for the return of all Milwaukee County special deputy badges issued to non-law enforcement personnel before he took office.

Among the badge-holders, Witkowski said, are a restaurant owner, several other businessmen, a flock of political supporters of the former sheriff, and

New York Yankees baseball star Tony Kubek.

FLUNKS CANINE CORPS

CHICAGO — IM — Thorndyke, a 14-month-old German Shepherd flunked out of Canine Corps training at the House of Correction when he made friends with the prisoners and growled at the guards.

OXNARD, Calif. — IM — Burglars stole between $300 and $500 from the safe of the Ventura County animal shelter without arousing a bark from any of the 100 dogs there.

"Not a watchdog in the bunch," a sheriff's deputy sadly observed.

Palm Springs is one community in Southern California where this season's rainfall to date is well above the precipitation on the corresponding date last year. With .42 of an inch falling in this week's storm, the total for the season to date is 2.38 inches. Last year the fall at this time of the year was .96 of an inch. And that was the total precipitation for the season too.

Callectric To Move to New Office

Transfer to Be Effective as of Monday Morning

California Electric Power Company will transfer its customer service and business operations to its new office at 1776 North Palm Canyon Drive in Palm Springs this week, opening the new facility to the public at 8 a.m. Monday. The company's old office at 168 E. Andreas Road which has been used since 1928 will close its doors for the last time at 5 p.m., Friday. All company and customer services previously handled at the old office will be offered at the new office.

THE NEW 6,000 square foot office building, designed to meet expanding customer requirements on the desert, will be the headquarters for Callectric operations in Palm Springs, Palm Desert, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Indian Wells, Eldorado, Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Desert Hot Springs, Cabazon, West Palm Springs and Palm Desert Oasis.

Company area offices in Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs and Palm Desert will continue to meet local requirements of these areas.

THE NEW BUILDING is of contemporary desert style architecture similar to other new business buildings constructed recently in the area. A feature is a 100-seat capacity electric living center complete with built-in electric kitchen and laundry equipment. It will be used for electric living demonstrations for customers, organizations and for home economists' work with youth groups.

Francis Crocker, Callectric district manager for the desert area, said that the company plans to hold an open house in mid-March when the public will be invited to visit the new office.

City Building Shows Decline In February

Building activity in Palm Springs experienced its usual slump during February, with $209,120 in construction authorized, the city building department reported.

Total for the year to date is $1,605,485.

Included in the 64 permits issued were seven new dwellings, $116,000; 34 home additions and alterations, $42,170; three apartment additions, $9,900; seven trailer additions, $32,350; three commercial additions and alterations, $5,700.

Construction authorized in February 1960 was $651,821, with the total for the first two months $2,997,967.

GAIN BY ELECTRIC INDUSTRY IS TOLD

The wire — instead of the fire — is heating, cooking and doing dozens of other jobs for more and more families in Southern California than ever before and the trend shows no signs of slackening.

Palm Springs area builders, contractors, architects and representatives from allied trades were told at the annual Medallion Home dinner sponsored by the California Electric Power Company.

The 175 building trades representatives attending the meeting learned results of a 1960 survey of Medallion Homes which showed that electricity made sharp gains in home use last year.

STATISTICS RELEASED at the dinner, held at The Desert Inn showed that during 1960, the third complete year of the Medallion Home program, there was a 76 per cent increase over 1959 in homes meeting Gold Medallion standards in the Calelectric service area.

A total of 886 Gold and Bronze Medallion units were completed in Calelectric's area last year. In addition, 350 more were under construction and 1,300 in the planning stage.

THAT BROUGHT the total completed Medallion units in the Calelectric area since the program was launched on a nation-wide scale in 1958 to 2,080.

The sharp increase in total electric homes awarded Gold Medallion reflects the public demand for better construction in homes and the conveniences that go hand-in-hand with modern, more luxurious living, the builders were told.

Medallion homes must meet certain requirements in wiring, lighting and electric appliances in order to be awarded a Bronze or Gold Medallion by the electric utility which serves the area in which it is built.

Building trades representatives were assured at the dinner that Calelectric will continue to support the Live Better — Electrically, Medallion Home program during 1961.

They were shown a 30 foot display designed to show latest advances in the application of light, residential heating and other new electrical products which are available for modern homes.

Gas Company's Area Budget Is $3 Million

A capital budget of nearly $3 million to meet anticipated growth and expansion in an area that includes San Bernardino and Riverside counties during 1961 has been set by the Southern California Gas Company, according to Eastern division manager W. P. Hand.

This is part of the gas company's overall capital budget of $19,433,000 to handle costs of additions and betterments throughout the company's system, Hand said.

"CONTINUING to meet our responsibility for ever-increasing demands for natural gas service," Hand stated, "we are dedicated to doing our part in fulfilling that responsibility by expanding and updating our facilities and services as it becomes feasible."

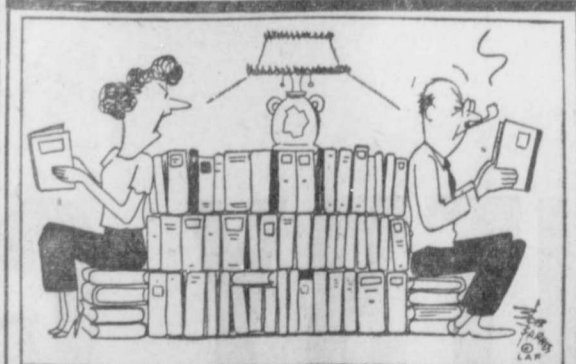

Along this line, anticipated growth of the area, resulting in an estimated increase of 9,200 new customers, will require an installation of some $15,000 feet of new gas mains at a cost of $1,184,000 with an additional outlay of $933,000 for services.

THE BALANCE of the money allotted to the Eastern division will be used for other plant and property replacements and additions, Hand said.

Additional Advice Given On Planting of Vines Here

Continuing on the vines we wrote of last week, Guinea Gold, Star Jasmine, and Passion Vine, The Blood-Red Trumpet is one that takes time to establish but when it starts its growth is vigorous and high climbing. In warm weather we can expect plenty of large red tubular blooms and dense foliage. Plant in full sun and give it ample feeding and watering. Hardy to 24 degrees. Keep it pruned.

The Caroline Jessamine is a rapid grower and its vines are slender and twining. Springtime gives it fragrant yellow clooms and it is hardy to zero degrees. When it is trained to hang from the eaves its lovely leaves show off to advantage.

THE EVERGREEN Clematis is thickly covered from March to May. Generally slow in growing but when established it reaches 20 feet. Its two inch white, star-like flowers are fragrant. It grows best when planted in partial shade. A good cover for fences and should be kept pruned. Hardy to 20 degrees.

The Snail Vine can be used as a climber on Palm Trees. It likes warm weather and plenty of water and sun. It should be heavily pruned but comes back quickly. The lavender blooms are snail-like most of the year but is plentiful during the warm months.

FOR A CONTINUOUS bloom there is the Common Honeysuckle that is slow to start but becomes very vigorous and dependable. Its white to yellow flowers are very fragrant. It thrives both in sun and shade. Hardy to 22 degrees.

There is also the Cup and Saucer Vine, sometimes named the Mexican Vine. It is somewhat woody in growth and climbs by tendrils without support. Thrives well in warm weather, so plant it in sunny location. In one season it might reach 25 feet. Its two inch long flowers are sometimes greenish purple and other violet. It is best to plant in spring so as to be ready before next winter comes around.

There are quite a lot more vines that would thrive in our desert but we have chosen those we know most about.

WHEN EASTER comes around, the pots of Zaleas will come. Exquisite cuisine — luncheon at Rim Rocks, formerly Romanoff's — exciting! Dramatic view of Palm Springs and the desert.

around. They should be handled on patios, porches or a shady terrace. Whatever you do see that they are not exposed to dry winds or hot sun, especially the choice Azaleas like Choral Bells (shell pink with a dense, low growth) and Snowflake, (white blooms that are dense and compact).

THERE ARE CAMELIAS, such as the tall and vigorous "Purity" (white) or the pale pink "Helen Hagood" that helps adding charm to the patio or porch.

Both of these plants should be planted in peatmoss and leaf mold with a light sprinkling of iron or iron chelates; they should then bring forth blooms of which you would be proud. At any time do not allow the mixture to become dry, keep it damp but not soggy. T. G. M.

New Play Pleases Village Crowd

By PEYTON CANARY

Francis Bethencourt brought a large share of polished-in-depth showmanship to Ferrall's Playhouse production of "Roar Like A Dove" joining seven other knowledgeable cast members in bringing theatre alive.

All six of the adult cast members brought art and drama—light, witty, but drama that evoked roars of laughter in the final act, and appreciative chuckles throughout. But pigtailed little Cecilia Wilcox walked off with a major share of the audience's heart with an enchanting, unaffected performance as the apple of her Scottish father's eye.

"ROAR LIKE A Dove," treated Villagers to a good sample of the stagecraft of director-producer Mike Ferrall. Ferrall, who has been concentrating on directorial chores here and in Los Angeles, took the role of an artistic improvised cousin of Lord Dunsany — Bethencourt — and gave it a strong witty interpretation that sparkled. Ferrall directed the play to a solid success here.

Lesley Storm's script is domestic humor — assuming everyone is well heeled and an American girl married a forceful Scottish lord.

AT PLAY'S OPENING, the heroine has decided that six daughters are enough, and the lord's dream of a son is reducing her to the status of a prize brood animal. By play's ending, as could be predicted, the Scottish estate has its heir. What goes in between gave Palm Springs theatregoers a three act glimpse of theatre that can live and absorb an audience.

Admiralty Loans Famous Old Ship for Film

HOLLYWOOD — UPI — The British Admiralty has agreed to assign the HMS Victory flagship of Adm. Horatio Viscount Nelson at the Battle of Trafalgar, to United Artists as the set for the motion picture "Billy Budd."

As a condition, the studio was required to take out $2,800,000 insurance on the square-rigged, 100-gun vessel which is the symbol of British sea power at the turn of the 19th Century.

Allied Artists said the insurance probably was the highest ever place on a movie set.

One Car Crash Tops Fatalities

More than half the fatal accidents investigated by the California Highway Patrol officers during 1960 involved a single vehicle, Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said this week.

"Of 1977 fatal accidents in Patrol areas, 1111 were in the one-car category. The implication is obvious. Your safety as a driver rests squarely in your own hands. In a majority of last year's fatal accidents, the driver of the involved car had only himself to blame."

"The Patrol has often emphasized defensive driving as a protection against the unexpected actions of other drivers, but it is equally important to recognize the causes which contribute to accidents of individual cars," the commissioner said.

"Excessive speed, misjudgment of roadway conditions, defective equipment, deliberate violation of safety rules — these are among factors which can send your car into a fatal skid, into a bridge abutment, or into a rollover.

"The sensible application of safe driving practices is the surest defense against motor vehicle accidents of any type," Commissioner Crittenden concluded.

Citation Follows Two-Car Crash

INDIO — Edwin Ross Wilson, 22, of 31-728 Avenida La Poloma near Palm Springs, was cited for failure to stop on Date Palm Drive at the Ramon Road intersection at 6:33 p.m. Tuesday, after his vehicle struck a station wagon driven by James J. O'Brien, 41, of 82-291 Sierra, Indio, the California Highway Patrol reported. Wilson told officers his brakes failed as he approached the stop sign. His vehicle, which skidded north up an extension of Date Palm Drive, was listed as a total wreck. Major damage was reported to the O'Brien vehicle.

Gerald K. Sanborn will be installed as president of the Palm Springs Shrine Club in ceremonies at a dinner-dance fete in the Riviera Hotel Saturday evening.

More than 400 tickets have been sold, Sanborn said. A large delegation is expected from the Banning club for the evening in the hotel's Mediterranean Room.

Triple Purpose Cocktail Party Hosted by Hirschis

By RUTH STEINER

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hirschi and their daughter, Jean Ann, hosted a "three purpose" cocktail party and a Santos catered buffet to around 70 guests in their new Bel Air Street home. The lavish table was set on the patio where the guests sipped and dined around the floral and candle decorated pool, enjoying the strolling musicians. A red carpet was rolled out on the sidewalk to welcome the guests as they arrived.

The three reasons for this lovely party were, first, a housewarming for their first party in their new home, which was decorated by Mrs. Joe (Marilyn) Noel of Los Angeles and with her husband was on hand and one of the honored guests. Second, in honor of the Hirschis' Desert Patch Hotel guests and, third, in honor of the homecoming of their manager, Mrs. June Bartholomew's daughter, Sarah, who just returned from a four month vacation in Europe and who will be here for the rest of the season with her mother.

Guests from the Desert Patch were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murphy from Tacoma, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnston from Vancouver, B. C., Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Evans all from Portland, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Pellatt also from Vancouver, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch from Corona Del Mar, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cureton and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wilson from Wichita Falls, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nash from faraway Noroton, Conn.

Other guests from nearby included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mogris, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gillespie, Mr.

and Mrs. Dick Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cordrey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Laine, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Jones, Mrs. Bill Cody, Mr. and Mrs. George Abernathy, Bud Taylor, Miss Dee Bailey, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey, Dave Taylor, Mrs. Louise Nicoletti with Mr. and Mrs. Bud (Maxine) Overbeck (Maxine was the decorator who did such a attractive job on Mrs. Nicoletti's Thunderbird home recently completed), Sarah Bartholomew and her escort, Jack Brooks and of course, Sarah's mother.

Dancing under the stars was enjoyed by many of the guests who lingered on to the later hours.

After having spent the past two weeks visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jensen left Thursday for the home in Spokane, Wash. En route home they stopped in Las Vegas for a few days to take in some of the shows.

Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burke, also of Spokane, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Burke's mother, Mrs. Harlan Peyton, who lives in the Sun Lodge Colony.

Mrs. Peyton plans to remain here for at least another month, at which time her son will return to drive her back to their homes in Spokane. Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jensen hosted the Alvin Jensens, the Burkes and Mrs. Peyton of dinner at Thunderbird Country Club.

Well known for their fine string of exhibition Hackney ponies, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith of Los Angeles were here for the annual Indio Date Festival. Tuesday evening they dropped in for cocktails at their long time friends, Edith Eddy Ward and her mother, Bunny. Mrs. Louise Slater and the Ward's houseguest, Mrs. Audrey Allgoewer were also here. Later on the Smiths dined at the Firecliff San Souci.

Arriving Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Snyder of Yakima, Wash., will spend a few days as houseguests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnston in their San Juan St. home.

Wenatchee, Wash. residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor and their two children, Scott and Joan, who arrived here the latter part of January and will be here until after Easter, have been busy entertaining friends from their home town. Recent visitors at the Taylor home were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whiteman who planned down, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sawyer, with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Foster, Jr., planning down a few days later. Tuesday Dr. and Mrs. Richard Mitchell left for home after spending a few days here.

Guests from near and afar at the Firecliff Lodge were Mr. and Mrs. Art Ryan, (he was here for the Press Club party held Saturday at the Biltmore) who spent the weekend here, Mr. and Mrs. Sellers, "Vanity Fair" and "Who Killed Society" who spent last week here and is now in San Francisco but they will return the latter part of the month for a few days before returning to their home in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stoddard (he is with Union Pacific) returned to Omaha, Neb., after spending several weeks here but plan to return this week for another month.

Other guests here are Mr. and Mrs. Benton Dayton of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Blanchette of Laguna Beach, who spent the weekend here and were entertained at Thunderbird Country Club by Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Joslyn who are here until after Easter, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. William Marsh all of Pittsburgh, Pa., who have been here for a month, Mr. and Mrs. F. Whittaker of Piedmont, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wing from Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cronin, Birmingham, Mich., who spent a week here, Mr. and Mrs. Page O'Tero and Mr. and Mrs. Rye Huber of Pacific Palisades spent the weekend, Mr. H. H. Thompson of Washington, D. C., here for a short time, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Vaughn (he is with the Security National Bank) of Riverside weekend here.

Stock Taken From PD Home

PALM DESERT — Miles Chisholm Bates, 31, of 73-697 Santa Rosa Drive, Palm Desert, is seeking $18,000 worth of Bank of America stock which disappeared from his bedroom.

Bates told Indio Sheriff's investigators, that the stocks were in a portfolio placed on a bedside desk in his home. Bates' house was unlocked at the time of the apparent disappearance, officers said. The stock is negotiable only with Bates' signature.

Angel Batters Have Big Day

Cerv Hits for Three, Averill Belts 2-Run Homer in L. A. Squad Game

The Kresses (Red) defeated the Elliotts (Bob) 9 to 5 in Thursday's intra-squad game of the Los Angeles Angels at Polo Grounds Thursday as Bob Cerv collected three singles and an RBI and Earl Averill hit a two-run homer for Elliott's side.

Pitcher Ted Bowsfield hurled against eight batters, got six of them out and allowed no runs.

FOLLOWING Bowsfield on the mound was another veteran hurler, Jerry Casale who pitched a full inning and allowed a hit, a run and walked two.

Then the batters took over and the next four hurlers gave up 14 hits and 13 runs. All youngsters, the group comprised Dean Chance, Morris Cigar, Fred Newman and Bob Sprout.

Leo Burke, playing left, turned in the most sensational play of the day, a shoe-string catch that doubled Jim McAnany off first base.

BEFORE AND AFTER the six-inning game, all of the Angels put in intensive drills.

No intra-squad game will be played today but plans are for more action tomorrow and Sunday.

Today it was announced that some of the exhibition games being played at the Polo Grounds will be put on the air via television.

Six practice games will be beamed to Los Angeles to introduce the community to Manager Bill Rigney's club.

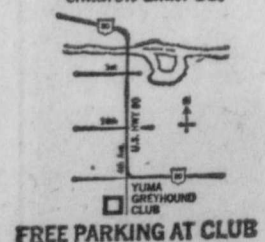

THE GAMES on Channel 9 will be described by Don Wells, Bob Kelley and Steve Bailey.

The Angels will televise 26 league games, some at home and some away.

THE POLO GROUNDS and Palm Springs weather and hospitality continues to draw praise from players and sports writers.

Veteran pro football coach Curly Lambeau is among those who raves about the Angels' Palm Springs facilities.

"Beyond any question," Curly said, "this is the best training camp in the country."

Little outfielder Albie Pearson, born in Alhambra, likes the facilities, too, but he likes playing for a Los Angeles team even more.

"This is the dream of my life," the former American League rookie of the year said. "I am playing at home for the first time. With a chance to play regularly I know I can help this club."

Newcombe Stars In Dodger Drills At Vero Beach

VERO BEACH, Fla. — The News comes in bunches at Dodger town.

Don Newcombe appears to be making good in his bid to win a place on the Los Angeles Dodgers pitching staff, one of the best in either league.

Jim Gilliam maintains he's still the Dodger third baseman—Tommy Davis or no Tommy Davis.

The Dodgers will go with two catchers, Norm Sherry and John Roseboro.

Newk looked like the man who won 27 games for the club in 1956 — one of the last seasons in Brooklyn.

Gilliam, 32, isn't worried about the threat to his starting job, saying, "I'm not ready to ride the bench and I won't be for a long time. As far as I'm concerned, I'm still the third baseman."

Manager Walter Alston is trying both Charlie Smith and Davis at the spot.

Marines Defeat Local All Stars By Wide Margin

Twenty-nine Palms Marines ran rough shod over an all-star team picked from City Basketball League teams this week at the USMC base, winning 95 to 47.

The Marines completely dominated the game, leading at half time, 41-23.

Carruthers of the winners was high man with 20 points and Jandreau of Palm Springs was high for the locals with 15.

The two teams will play a return match on the high school floor here March 7.

BOXERS IN VERBAL BOUT

Worry About Ingo, Ray Advises Floyd

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Sugar Ray Robinson said today Floyd Patterson should be more concerned with Ingemar Johansson's right hand "than with my welfare in my fight with Gene Fullmer."

Robinson, 40, who faces his fourth title bout with middleweight Fullmer at the Las Vegas Convention Hall Saturday night, smiled wryly when reminded of heavyweight champion Patterson's concern for him.

Slender Ray delivered his advice for the heavyweight champ at a news conference. A sports-writer informed him that Patterson had said that Sugar Ray should not worry about the rough tactics Fullmer used in the ring, but should concentrate on getting into top condition to beat him.

For Saturday night's scheduled 15-round fight, Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, is favored at 8-5 because of his stamina, persistent attack and 11-year age advantage.

The score for their three previous title bouts stands at one victory each, and a draw.

Fullmer is recognized as world champion by the National Boxing Association (NBA).

The promoters are hoping for a crowd of 7,000 and a gate of $150,000.

Williams Has Another Row With Writers

Ted Gets Into New Hassle with Press In Red Sox Camp

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. —

Former Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams is in the middle of another hassle today because a Boston baseball writer thought he was feuding when he might have been fooling.

Williams' latest battle in his 20-year-old war with the press developed suddenly Thursday when he passed sportswriter Larry Claflin of the Boston Daily Record in the Red Sox' dugout en route to a press conference. Williams shouted at Claflin and raised his right fist causing the writer to throw up his arms in protection.

OTHER WRITERS were divided as to whether Williams was threatening Claflin or engaging in horse play but the scribe insisted that the retired slugger was serious.

Previously, Williams and Jackie Jensen, returning to the Red Sox after a one-year self-exile, engaged in some spirited bantering on the playing field. This led to Jensen denying that Ted's retirement had anything to do with his own return to baseball.

JENSEN WAS AMONG the first players to see Williams when Ted stepped on the field, and greeted the somewhat pudgy Ted with the comment: "Hey, Ted, you must have been eating a lot of fish this winter."

"You're a year late," snapped back Ted. "Where were you last year? We could have used you."

Williams was affable and kidded about his new title of "executive assistant" during the 10-minute press conference that followed the incident with Claflin. But he couldn't resist another opportunity to throw a barb at the press.

"I'm looking forward to enjoying the next 20 years much more than I did the last 20," he said. "For one thing, I won't have to read so much garbage in the papers."

Boros Ties for N.O. Lead

NEW ORLEANS — Veteran Jules Boros and youngsters Johnny Pott and Doug Sanders tied off with one-stroke leads today after fashioning four-under-par 68s in the first round of the $30,000 New Orleans open golf tourney.

Boros, who celebrated his 41st birthday today, shot a steady 35-33-68 Thursday to share the lead with his youthful rivals.

The thick-waisted North Carolinian pro had three birdies and a six-foot eagle over the 6,569-yard, 37-35-72 city park course.

Baylor Paces L. A. Over Nats, 114-110

SCRANTON, Pa. — The Los Angeles Lakers settled down for a two-day rest today awaiting their televised encounter with the New York Knickerbockers Sunday. Led by Elgin Baylor who scored 34 points, the Lakers Thursday night defeated the Syracuse Nationals 114-110 in a National Basketball Association game here.

Pott, 25, played the most spectacular golf of the first round. His card of 34-34-68 had birdie putts of 30, 15, 10, 10, 8 and 5 feet as well as a 50-foot eagle chip on the par 5 fourth hole, a 500-yard number. But his game was not consistent and he bogied four holes.

Sanders, 27, also registered a 34-34-68 but his game was not as erratic as Pott's. The unorthodox Californian had only one bogey and sank birdie putts of 20, 10, 3, 2 and 2 feet.

One stroke back at 69 were Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Marty Furgol, Coghill, Ill.; Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., and George Bayer of Pasadena, Calif. Leading money-winner Arnold Palmer was well within striking distance of the leaders. Palmer's first round was a 70. His four birdies were all on short putts of less than four feet.

Bunched with Palmer were Paul Harney, Gardiner Dickinson, Frank Boynton, Don Massengale, Fred Haas, Howie Johnson, Doug Ford and Jerry Pittman.

Among the boys Workman has out drilling are Norman Ruiz, third baseman, Kenny Morrison, shortstop, Carlos Reyes, Gilbert Flores and Jay Walton, all pitchers. All of the five are lettermen from last year. Two others with experience who have suited up are Richard Soran and Dag Duran, outfielders.

Taylor Leads DVL Basketball Scoring

Palm Springs High School Indians may have finished in a tie for last place in the Desert Valley Basketball league but one of the Indians wound up as high man in scoring for the season.

Tyronne Taylor, Tribe forward, scored 137 points in 10 DVL games for an average of 13.7 per game. That put him 17 points ahead of Paul Griffen of Coachella's Arabs who had held the lead throughout most of the season.

The Indians placed two men in the top ten, Carlos Reyes hitting for 101 points in 10 games and a 10.1 average.

Both Taylor and Reyes will be back with Jim Workman's basketball squad next season.

Twenty-nine Palms, tied with Palm Springs in the cellar also had two men in the top ten and ties as did Coachella, Banning and Indio. Yucaipa, the league champions, had only one.

California Leads in Major Players

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International
NEW YORK — California now proud host to three major league baseball clubs, again leads 'em all in sending its native sons to the big top.

The total soared to 70 this year with 37 Californians on American League spring rosters and 33 on National League lists. That's a modest increase of two over last year but good enough for a healthy lead.

PENNSYLVANIA moved into sole possession of second place with 37, New York is third with 43 and Illinois fourth with 40.

Others hail from 13 areas outside the continental U. S. and from such unlikely places as Strawberry Plains, Tenn., Salt Fork, W. Va., Big Cabin, Okla., and Potts Camp, Miss., but six states aren't represented at all.

Vermont, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Alaska and Hawaii didn't make the grade. But little old Rhode Island has three and Washington, D. C., sent out four.

For the first time, however, the list of players born outside the U. S. topped all but the two big states with a total of 53, including 20 from Cuba.

THE "IMPORT" LIST includes such as Elmer Valo of the Minnesota Twins, who first saw the light of day in Ribnik, Czechoslovakia; Reno Berioia of the Twins, born in St. Vito, Italy, and Moe Drabowski of the Cubs, who was born in Ozanna, Poland.

AS MIGHT BE EXPECTED, the two Los Angeles clubs own the most home-states. The Dodgers have seven, including Don Drysdale, Larry Sherry, Bob Lillis and Duke Snider. Among the six Californians with the new American League Angels are Truman Cleveland, Tom Morgan and Albie Pearson.

The roster of Californians also includes Del Crandall and Billy Martin of the Braves, Frank Sullivan and Lee Walls of the Phils, Dick Stuart, Gino Cimoli and Bob Skinner of the world champion Pirates, Ernie Broglio of the Cardinals, Mike McCormick of the Giants, Chuck Estrada, Gus Triandos and Jim Gentile of the Orioles, Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox, Woody Held of the Indians, Bud Daley and Andy Carey of the Athletics.

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

Night on the Town turned out to be Around Town for some of the deputies... when the bus went completely off schedule... and we missed it all around town... Gathering at the Ranch Club for cocktails and a light repast... the deputies in their western clothes... looked right at home in this popular spot that still has so much western atmosphere... When the buses started off with a roar... and a banging of cap guns... we got in our cars and headed for El Mirador... where we watched John Morris and his assistants decorating the Starlight Patio with flowers... and heard Ray Ryan was home from the hospital...

There were people all over the place... but no other deputies... (this would have been just dandy if we had been carrying bigger supply of badges and buttons)... so we decided to try the Racquet Club... which has always been one of the first bus stops... Still no busses and no deputies... but we encountered Basil Brewer (the New Bedford publisher) in the bar and found he'd arrived at Howard Manor earlier this week...

We took a vote and headed for The Dunes... where we caught up with Ball chairman Nancy Holmes and Vince Flaherty (loved that pink desert moon... and those pink rabbit eyes... Vince wrote about this week when he did a column for Cholly Angeleno)... and decided it was dinner time... Spotted former Ambassador Joe Kennedy dining with Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis... and a group of friends that included Joe Timothy, Arthur Hooter and niece Anne Gargan...

Tom Powers of the Bonaires... down for his third Desert Circus... joined Larry Foy at the piano and they played the "Hildy" song chopsticks fashion. Incidentally... the Bonaires who created the song for me last...

year... introducing it from Chi Chi stage... have a new record out and on one side of it is "Red River Valley"... Bill's favorite song... which they have dedicated to him... and which was played for the first time on KDES.

Still no bus (the deputies never did make The Dunes this year) so we sold our last two deputy badges at a bonus price... and moved across the street to Chi Chi... to hear Mort Sahl on the late show...

His crack about Joe Kennedy (he said the President's father... who got lost during the election... has been found again) was very funny... and in the sophisticated style for which he is noted... but when he got down to local material his sense of humor failed me... So Sahl-ly... but with an important airport bond election facing us... so important that it could make or break this beautiful Palm Springs of ours... it's not time to belittle the airport...

This just wasn't Sahl's night... for some comedian on the wrong side of the footlights got into the act too... That's show business for you... It can get over showy...

Night On The Town...

By SUE RAYMOND, Girl Deputy

The noise that resembled a small atomic explosion Wednesday evening was the echo of some 30 cap pistols sounding off in unison when Desert Circus deputies started their "Night on the Town" raid at Ranch Club, where Joyce and Noel Clarke hosted a cocktail buffet for the group in the Corral Room.

Well fortified with ammunition (immunity buttons, sheriff's badges and tickets to the week's events), the good-looking gal deputies climbed aboard a Tanner Bus which had a police motorcycle escort. (Nick Maff was just about the most popular man in town that evening as every deputy was begging to ride with him and those that did are still insisting that a wind-blown hairdo is the latest thing).

First stop on the itinerary was Deep Well where the first donors were probably the Morrey Thais, who were dining with the Sid Meyers of Chicago. The sheriffs rounded up the deputies and announced "bus time" and headed the bus that-a-way to the Biltmore (this was where Joanne Walls sold her own 6-year-old badge for $50) and then on to the Ocotillo. Here Helene Alexander caught up with her father and mother-in-law, the George Alexanders, who were dining with the Hugh Walkers (new owners in the Golden Vista Estates) and they surrendered for the sake of family and men at their next stop in the Rivier's Mediterranean Room.

Last stop of the evening was the charity. Another table of Pittsburgh people... the Joe Shengkans, the Buddy Mars (he says he's from outer space), the Byron Fosters and the S. I. Kamins... were held up twice, and gladly.

At RimRocks, Jack Dempsey, who was dining with his bride, upset precedent and gave up with out a fight, while a table of New Yorkers had to buy two of each to take home to the kiddies. This group included Wall Streeter, William Warren and his wife; the Louis Krussmans (he's co-owner of Trifari); and the Edward Bassos, all staying at Thunderbird...

The man said "Go West" and the deputies did where they scattered between Don the Beachcombers and the Doll House. At Beachcombers they held up a banker, Laurence Stern of Chicago, chairman of the board of the American National Bank and Trust Co.

Ray Ryan's lion may never recover from the rude awakening he received as 30 guns invaded the Silver Palm, Safari and South Pacific Rooms... and don't forget the Lion's chuckwagon breakfast in the Safeway parking lot tomorrow morning... Osa Mathews was calling a square dance in the Silver Palm Room and added a new step about "reach in your pockets and dig in deep... Desert Circus deputies are here." The gals enjoyed being on the selling end when they encountered a group of conventioning insurance Howard Manor and by now the gals were just about sold out lock, stock and gun barrel, but visiting deputy, Joni Blashek must have been holding out for her old stamping ground because Desert Circus was two $100 bills richer when she returned to the bus. It was Joni and Bob's ninth wedding anniversary and she says she's never had a better time. (Bob came along too and sported a well-worn badge which denoted years of Desert Circus service.)

The group returned to home base and the gals took their hats off to each other for a job well done.

Hirschis' Housewarming Is Also A Welcome Home

Guests walked on a plush red carpet to the front door of the Ray Hirsch's new Bel Air Road home in Palm Desert Saturday evening, when they gathered to warm the new home and to welcome Sarah Novak who has just returned from a four months tour of Europe. Sarah is the daughter of June Bartholomew, manager of the Hirsch's Desert Patch motel.

Cocktails were served poolside, complemented by an array of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres, catered by Santos. While guests enjoyed sweet and sour meatballs, iced shrimp, cream puffs filled with lobster and turkey oysters, Bob Swanson of Cathedral City's Green Lantern, strolled through the crowd singing songs, ranging from folk-type to calypso. Luau torches reflected on the pool which floated a variety of colored flowers and candles.

Among the party guests, vacationing at the Desert Patch, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell of Portland; Dr. and Mrs. Tom Murphy of Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch of Corona del Mar; the John Wilsons and Arnold Curetons of Wichita Falls, Texas; the C. Decorator Addresses Clubwomen

When members of the Palm Desert Woman's Club gathered in the dining room of Shadow Mountain Club for a meeting, ruby crystal glasses sparkled on the pink table clothes and magenta bougainville and vari-colored stock lined the main table seating the officers and guest speaker, Mrs. Virginia Lynch, A.I.D., from San Francisco.

Reports were given on the club's treasury, welfare work and progress being made by the library building committee.

Mrs. L. W. Thompson, president, introduced the speaker who has decorated homes from Malibu to New York as well as office buildings. Her subject was "How to Use Your Decorator" and she explained how interior decoration is a very personalized, individual matter and that a good decorator must have a knowledge of psychology when dealing with her client.

The meeting was enjoyed by a large group of guests whose addresses ranged from Canada to New Orleans.

Texans Guests of Marklands

Colonel and Mrs. Curtis W. Markland entertained the Allen Polleffsons of Dallas, Texas (where he flies for Braniff airlines) and the Paul Taynes of Los Angeles in their Racquet Club Estate home, last weekend. The Marklands' son, comedian Ted Markland, is playing a 10-day club date at the Ash Grove in Los Angeles.

Studio City Group Plane to Desert

The Harold Jensens of Studio City flew their own plane to Palm Springs with the James Wolfes and Walter Watroses, also of Studio City, to spend the weekend at the Monkey Tree Hotel.

Others at Monkey Tree were the Albert Hildmans and the Al Kyburzes from Placerville, California. The Hildmans own a large lumber business in Placerville and are toying with the idea of building a hotel there to provide a vacation spot for their large family. St. Joseph, Missouri was well represented by the Joseph Bushmans (he's a well-known contractor and owner of the Mechanic's Bank) and his sister, Mrs. Betty Milder; the Harry Rosenthals (he owns the Stevens Hat Company); and the Bernard Buxbaums. A group from Piedmont, California included Messrs. and Mrs. Norman Polse, Irving Loube and Clifford Grodin.

To Show Houses Sunday

The Home Tour, which Palm Springs Branch of AAUW is conducting in the Thunderbird area Sunday afternoon, will visit four homes, the Melvin Eaton home, the Leonard K. Firestone home, the Robert McCulloch home and the Louise Nicoletti home.

The Nicoletti home, on Tonopah at Sonora, is an original design by architect William Cody, and is causing much comment.

Precast concrete arches are used in the main body of the structure, and carried out to overhangs repeated below. The pool is designed to follow the line of the arches. A one arch gazebo back of the pool faces the livingroom. This area is covered with pebble aggregate from Mexico, interspersed with handsome planted areas.

Beautiful dark terra cotta open tiles are used intriguingly with a dark copper mosaic panel in the garage entrance. Unusual color combinations in tiling are also found in the kitchen, which has a solid bank of windows facing the panoramic view to the Little San Bernardino mountains.

A unique feature is a bar which extends from the livingroom into the patio. Above the bar is a light fixture of copper set with semi-precious stones.

The carpeting and fabrics are especially made, and handwoven Austrian draperies in the living room pull up in loops from the bottom. The furniture combines contemporary with antiques from Mrs. Nicoletti's home in Mich.

New Yorkers Visit Desert

Prominent visitors from New York City and Palm Beach are the Jack Frawleys who are visiting here for the next two weeks as houseguests of Rolli and Lew Landers in Palm Desert. Frawley is the son of the late Senator and Mrs. James J. Frawley of New York and is a cousin to Landers—a well-known film and television director.

On Wednesday evening the Frawleys were entertained at dinner at the Palm Springs Riviera. Other guests included Mrs. Landers' mother, Baroness Laurence Von Schiff and Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Brill. Brill is a retired member of the law firm of Guggenheim, Untermeyer and Marshall and now makes his home in Beverly Hills.

The guest quarters are separated by an arcade from the main building and are across the pool from another building that contains room for the grandchildren and servants.

This house shows the endless hours of planning that have gone into it, and it offers an education in the latest in design and use of materials.

Mrs. Brad Davis, Home Tour chairman, said today that tickets (at $2.50 each) and the tour handbook are available at the Chamber of Commerce office in Palm Springs, Palm Desert and Cathedral City, or at any of the houses on Sunday afternoon. The tour is 1 to 5 p.m.

Americana Discussion on Program

"The Connoisseur" themed the program presented by Mrs. John Down and Mrs. Pete Breakey when Chi Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Gamma sorority met at the Rancho Mirage home of Mrs. Breakey.

Mrs. Down elaborated on Americana craftsmen, the highly skilled makers of furniture, silver, glass and pewter, from the period from 1734 to 1885, and their products which are highly prized by collectors of Americana. She defined various types of porcelain, often called chinaware because of its origin in China. Mrs. Breakey showed color prints, of the kind that can usually be viewed only in museums, and hand made quilts, one made by her 90-year-old grand mother.

Plans for the Founders Day dinner on April 9th, which Chi Theta will hostess, were discussed during the business session, which was conducted by the president Mrs. Ralph Hammer.

The hostess served mint ice cream patties, cookies and coffee, following the closing ritual.

TELEVISION NOTES

NEW YORK — Screen Gems, a pioneer and one of the largest operators in the field of half-hour filmed series ranging from cartoons through drama, is preparing a program of one-hour and 90-minute "live on tape" shows in the musical and dramatic fields for next season. In short, "specials" at the syndicated level.

An important feature of the plan is to do most of the work in New York, although Screen Gems, as a subsidiary of Columbia Pictures, turns out its other products in Hollywood for the most part.

Alan Jay Lerner's big interest now is television rather than the musical stage, to which he has contributed "My Fair Lady" and "Camelot" as librettist and lyricist. He is writing and co-producing, in partnership with MGM-TV, a comedy series called "Harry's Girls" which is to be filmed this spring and summer in many European locales. Has to do with the peregrinations of a small vaudeville unit. Larry Blyden plays Harry.

Handling two one-hour western series proved too much for Charles Marquis Warren, so CBS has permitted him to bow out of the "Rawhide" program, which he originated two seasons ago, to concentrate on his new creation, "Gunsmoke," which made its debut in February. He is executive producer.

The musical background for the recent TV drama "The Heiress," composed by Robert Cobert, has been recorded by Bernie Wayne's orchestra for the Everest label.

MIKE NICHOLS and Elaine May, currently a sell-out hit with their satirical sketches in Broadway's John Golden Theater, will make their only formal TV appearance of the season March 1 on Perry Como's NBC hour.

Recently they were designated the best comedy team of TV and radio in the annual poll of Motion Picture Daily. The plan for them to do their own one-hour special this season, apparently, has been postponed because their eight theater performances a week keep them too busy.

There has been a logical reason for CLASSIFIEDS CALL FA 5-5005 son for episodes on the "Route 66" program being set in the Southwest and West this winter. The shows are filmed on location only a few weeks before being broadcast, and winter conditions in the rest of the country make such work chancy if not impossible. But with spring coming up, producer Bert Leonard will slowly begin moving his actors and crew eastward to get around to scripts that require backgrounds there.

Palm Valley Water Firm Given Okeh

Service to Be Extended to 2,150 Acres

The California Public Utilities Commission has authorized the Palm Valley Water Company to extend service to some 2,150 acres in the vicinity of Palm Desert and Indian Wells.

One of the areas, northeast of Palm Desert, includes Country Club Village and Shadow Village, and comprises a total of 1120 acres. The second area, in the Indian Wells section will include Eldorado Palms - Desert Bel Air, a 520-acre parcel being developed by Baseline Development Company, and the 250 acres of Ray Ryan Cove.

The decision followed a public hearing last Dec. 29 in Indio. The company presently serves about 340 active customers and 3900 more will ultimately be added by the decision.

Harold J. Hicks of Palm Springs, owner of the company, was required to submit a plan for the development of additional sources of water to meet the demands of customers in the new areas. He was also enjoined from extending service further.

Optimist Club Schedules Youth Speech Contest

Palm Springs Optimist Club will hold its sixth annual Youth Oratorical Contest, with a total of five boys competing for top awards at the Tennis Club next Wednesday.

The contest is under the direction of Margaret Younghusband, Palm Springs High School teacher.

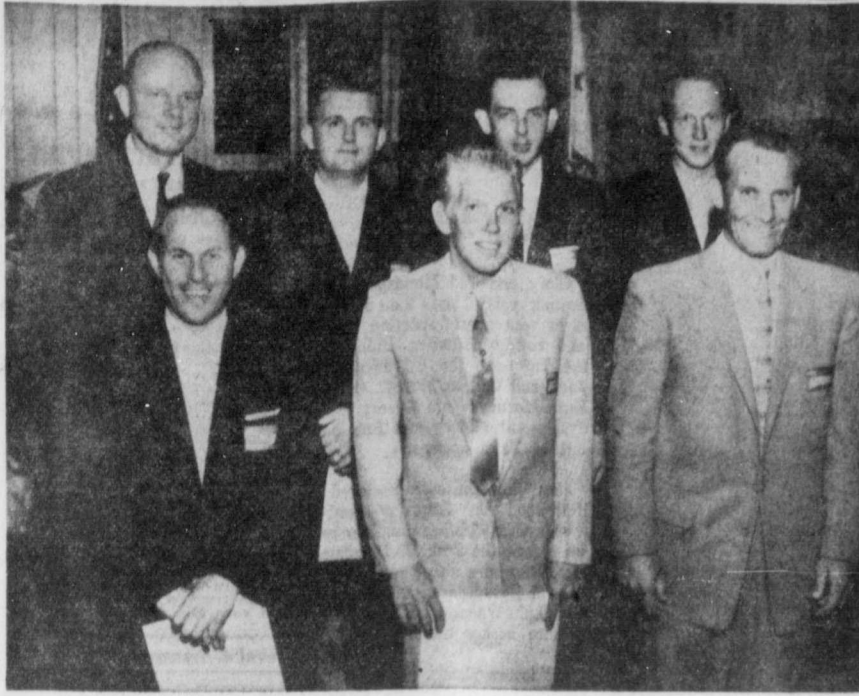

First and second place trophies will be presented the winners, and the first place winner will compete in the zone, district, and then national oratorical contests for Optimist Clubs.

The Palm Springs planning commission this week continued the public hearing on the Palm Springs Professional Village application for a development on the west side of the 900 block of South Palm Canyon Drive, to permit the planning department time to evolve a recommendation for professional zone standards.

Acting city planning director Jack Bearpaw told The Desert Sun that current applications for other zoning in section two are not in line with tentative planning for development of the area. Recommendations are expected for the March 15 meeting.

THE COMMISSION continued the Lawrence Crossley application for change of zone from guest ranch to R-3 in section 20. The planners asked appearance of a San Bernardino area Federal Housing Administration official to explain federal programs for persons displaced from section 14 by new zoning ordinances.

Denied by unanimous vote was the application by Agnes Farkas for a change of zone from R-1a, single family residence, to R-2, for lots six and seven in block C of Palm Highlands tract, section 23. Also denied as a lot split application of Henry and Esther L. Frank for block five in Vista Acres.

THE COMMISSION approved

The planning department is tentatively scheduled to make recommendations Mar. 15 for a road plan in section 30. A master plan for the section has been approved by commission and city council, but has not been specified to tie-in with adjacent section roads.

Youth Meet Set At Junior High

Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School students are joining teachers in preparing for the Saturday all-day conference on the junior high school section of the Secondary Youth Conference, sponsored by the 23rd district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the California Association of Secondary School Administrators.

An estimated 400 junior high students will participate in the conference which has a theme of "The Role of the Modern Junior High School."

PRINCIPAL WARREN Linville will welcome the group, and the Nellie N. Coffman Junior High Choir and the Madrigals, under the direction of Hugh Givens, will entertain the assembly prior to the 13 section conference.

Mrs. Elwood Rutherford, 23rd District P-TA president, and Dr. Leonard Grindstaff, assistant county superintendent of schools, will be official representatives at the meeting. Mrs. Donald Durbin is the NCC Parent-Teacher Guild Chairman for the event.

Sue Lyon, first semester student council president will be a leader in the student spirit and participation section, with Cici Kennedy, treasurer, as recorder. Warren Linville and Mrs. Harold E. Bannick, Banning, are adult resource workers for the section.

PALM SPRINGS High School students are participating in time utilization studies which will be given countywide this year.

Questionnaires on academic background, study habits curriculum and assignment of the numbers for subsequent tests, were issued last Tuesday.

During March and April, student log cards will be distributed showing activities in 20 minute intervals from 6 a.m. to midnight, and at hourly intervals after that. Classifications include meals, travel to and from school, class time, school activities, non-school activities, study, recreation, sleep and work. A similar log will be issued after the tests.

COST OF THE program is estimated at $14,000 for the countywide tests. Tests will determine time usage, correlation between time utilization and intelligence, and effect of habits established in high school on later college or work experience.

A follow-up of the 1961 graduating class be made over the next two years.

AT CIELO VISTA school, Mrs. Rhodanne Foy's first grade gave a musical surprise for the P-TA meeting last Tuesday evening.

SOCIAL STUDIES units on Mexico and Central American have sparked interest in the Aztec and Mayan sculpture among pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Bryant's fifth and sixth grade room at Katherine Finch school.

Students are making primitive masks and plaques using sand sculpture techniques.

Youngsters are making chalk murals of representative industries in nations studied, pupil David Larsen reported.

Blue, Gold Dinner Held By Pack 81

Appeal Issued For Community Chest Support

More than 200 Cub Scouts and their parents of Cub Pack 81 celebrated their annual Blue and Gold Dinner in the multi-purpose room of Cathedral City School.

George Miller, institutional representative and neighborhood commissioner, was master of ceremonies, and Orvil Zappe, president of the Lions Club, sponsor of the local organization, spoke briefly on the need for support of the Community Chest Drive now under way.

ZAPPE POINTED out that scouting in the Palm Springs area receives its entire financial support from the Chest, and that the figure totaled $9,800 for 1961. He added that approximately $3,000 was distributed by the Welfare and Friendly Aid of Palm Springs to people in the Cathedral City area.

Speaker of the evening was Robert Hill, chairman of the Palm Springs District of the Boy Scouts of America.

A CUB SCOUT Charter was presented by Hill to Cubmaster Frank Trombley, who in turn presented achievement awards to cubs who were advancing.

Den 3 won the attendance award, and Den 7 won the award for being the neatest and best dressed.

Today is Friday, March 3, the 62nd day of the year with 303 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1837, Congress increased the membership of the U.S. Supreme Court from seven to nine justices.

In 1845, Florida became the 27th state.

In 1847, Alexander Graham Bell, chief inventor of the telephone, was born.

In 1848, an act of Congress created the U. S. Department of the Interior.

In 1871, Congress authorized the Civil Service Commission.

In 1931, an act of Congress designated the Star Spangled Banner to be the national anthem of the United States of America.

Thought for today: Arthur Joseph Conrad said: "Most of us, if you will pardon me for betraying the universal secret, have, at some time or other, discovered in ourselves a readiness to stray far, ever so far, on the wrong road."

Vets, Churches May File Tax Exemptions Soon

County Assessor Eric L. Waite announced yesterday that veterans and churches eligible for property tax exemption may file exemption applications from March 6 through May 1. This also applies to members of the armed forces still in service who are legal residents of the State of California.

The veteran or his spouse must have been the recorded owner of real property as of noon March 6. Exemptions will not be granted on property not recorded in the county recorder's office on or before noon on the first Monday in March.

To qualify for the exemption of $1,000 assessed valuation, the veteran must be a legal resident of California; have served with the armed forces during wartime; and must have been honorably discharged.

Exemptions are allowed to veterans who own separately, taxable and non-taxable property to the extent of $5,000 and in the value of $10,000 on property held jointly with his spouse. The market value of non-taxable property is used to determine the $5,000 and $10,000 limitations.

Move from Homes Started by Many

By RAFAELA MARMOLEJO V.

It looks like the Reservation is en verdad (in reality) being evacuated . . . people that had lived in it por anos y anos (for years and years) had to move because of the 30 day notices they received . . . Very few were glad al moverse (to move) but most of them were misty eyed, y apurados (and worried) for fear of not finding proper lodging.

Dona Dellino and don Manuel Fontes of 245 El Segundo have been en la misma localidad (in the same location) for over 35 years and have moved to Calle Ajo . . . La familia (family) de la Vara senior Pedro and Fernanda (Nacha) living with the Fontes have found a place at the Dream Homes as well as senior Juan and Aurelia Duran of 219 El Segundo . . . the latter have a family of three and the de la Vara son cuatro de familia (are four in the family).

Senior Arturo Jurado his wife Hortencia of 245 Calle Santa Rosa and their five chamacos (children) have moved to the residence of senior Ralph Lopez at 4318 Sunny Dunes Road.

Families to move soon are senior Jose and Lupe Marquez con su familia (with their family) . . . they live at 501 Arenas and as far as we know more will be notified within the next cuatro meses (four months).

Well . . . It is getting un poco tarde (a little late) so shall we just say Que Dios los bendiga y . . . Hasta . . . Luego . . .
